B. Basis for federal jurisdiction

This case is a class action brought under the Class Action Fairness Act, 28 U.S.C. § 1332(d). Plaintiff Manhart is a citizen of Indiana and has alleged damages on behalf of the class in excess of five million dollars; none of the proposed class members are citizens of Illinois; and, for example, Defendant WESPAC Foundation, Inc., on information and belief, is a citizen of New York State.

C. Nature of the claims

Plaintiff Manhart alleges Defendants organized, or otherwise participated in an April 15, 2024 blockade of Interstate 190 at the entrance to O'Hare International Airport, causing actionable injury to the Plaintiff and other members of the putative class. Manhart has asserted twelve state tort claims against the individual defendants and the entity defendants including: (1) statutory violation of 625 ILCS § 5/11-1416, obstructing highways; (2) public nuisance; and (3) false imprisonment. Manhart has asserted claims involving direct liability and also vicarious liability under conspiracy, in-concert, and principal-agent liability.

D. Relief sought

Plaintiff Manhart is seeking compensatory and punitive damages for the proposed class of at least $36 million. Manhart is also seeking injunctive relief.

E. Major legal and factual issues anticipated in the case

Manhart anticipates legal disputes relating to class certification; whether the First Amendment or Illinois Citizen Participation Act applies as a defense to criminal violations; and possibly relating to the consequences of claims of Fifth Amendment privilege.

Certain Defendants believe that Plaintiff's complaint warrants sanctions under Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 11 if Plaintiff does not withdraw his claims prior to January 27, 2025, because (1) Plaintiff's individual claims are frivolous, and (2) Plaintiff has filed this complaint for the improper purpose of harassing Defendants.

Defendants anticipate asserting that the following global legal issues are raised by the Amended Complaint: (1) whether this SLAPP suit should be dismissed pursuant to the Illinois Citizen Participation Act; (2) whether Plaintiff has standing to seek any relief; (3) whether there is a private right of action for obstructing highways under Illinois law; (4) whether Plaintiff fails to state a claim for false imprisonment; (5) whether Plaintiff fails to state claims for aiding-and-abetting, in-concert and conspiracy liability; (6) whether this lawsuit is properly brought as a putative class action; and (7) whether there is personal jurisdiction over certain Defendants. Defendants believe that this is a SLAPP suit, designed to harass, intimidate and punish Defendants for their advocacy in support of Palestinians' human rights.

Plaintiff Manhart contends that the complaint was filed in good faith., and maintains his claims and class claims are meritorious and that the complaint satisfies the pleading standards of Fed. R. Civ. Proc. 8.

F. Parties yet to be served

Plaintiff Manhart has served or received waivers from all defendants.

G. Amended pleadings

Plaintiff Manhart has already filed a First Amended Complaint. Manhart believes that discovery may reveal additional individuals or entities that should be added as defendants, and if that happens will seek leave of the Court to amend the complaint. Defendants WESPAC, Tides Center, NSJP, Dissenters, and the individual Defendants would oppose Plaintiff's Motion for Leave to Amend.

II. Discovery and Pending Motions

A. Type of discovery needed

Plaintiff Manhart intends to seek electronic discovery and financial transaction information from the Defendants, and information regarding Community Justice Exchange's bail fund. Third-party subpoenas will likely be necessary. Manhart also anticipates performing depositions of individual defendants, unnamed co-conspirators, and, if necessary, police. Manhart will serve requests for admission to narrow the issues before the Court. Manhart believes discovery related to damages can be bifurcated from discovery related to liability. Should discovery proceed, Defendants disagree that bifurcation is appropriate and reserve the right to object to the discovery requests Plaintiff outlines above.

B. Case management dates

1. The Parties propose a Rule 26(f) conference within twenty-one days of the Court's ruling on all anti-SLAPP motions, Rule 11 motions, and Rule 12 motions that Defendants file.
2. The Parties propose to schedule the initial status conference within five days of the Rule 26(f) conference.
3. The Parties propose to exchange Rule 26(a)(1) disclosures seven days after the initial status conference.
4. The Parties propose to issue initial written discovery requests within thirty days of the Rule 26(f) conference. Each Party reserves the right to serve follow-up written discovery as necessary.
5. The Parties propose to complete fact discovery within eight months of the Rule 26(f) conference.

C. Anticipated expert discovery

Plaintiff Manhart anticipates that expert discovery could be required related to use of social media and also potentially related to damages. Plaintiff also reserves the right to call rebuttal experts.

Should discovery proceed, certain Defendants anticipate retaining rebuttal experts and experts regarding the history and efficacy of protest tactics. The Parties reserve their rights to challenge the admissibility of expert testimony.

D. Pending or anticipated motions

Defendants anticipate filing or joining in anti-SLAPP motions, Rule 11 motions, and/or Rule 12(b) motions for dismissal on or before January 27, 2025. All or some of the Defendants may also file motions to strike certain allegations from the Complaint.

E. Service of pleadings

The parties agree to service of pleading and papers by electronic means under Rule 5(b)(2)(E) of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, including by email.

III. Trial

A. Jury Trial

Plaintiff Manhart has demanded a jury trial.

B. Anticipated trial date

The Parties propose a trial date ninety days after dispositive motions are ruled upon.

C. Anticipated length of trial

The Parties anticipate that a trial in this case will last at least two weeks.

IV. Consent and settlement discussions

A. Consent to proceed before the assigned Magistrate Judge

The Parties do not unanimously consent to proceed before the assigned Magistrate Judge.

B. Settlement discussion

The Parties have not held any settlement discussions to date.

C. Settlement conference

Defendants believe that a settlement conference with a Magistrate Judge is premature at this time given the anticipated Rule 11, anti-SLAPP and 12(b) motions.

Dated: January 10, 2025
